

PRIVACY

Mission Statement

In the spirit of John XXIII, Mary Ward and Ignatius Loyola, we seek to be people of competence, conscience and compassion who are committed to God and the service of others.

Rationale

The Privacy Act 1988 directs the manner in which private sector organisations, including John XXIII College, manage the personal and sensitive information of individuals. The purpose of the legislation is to ensure that organisations, which hold information about individuals, handle that information responsibly. It aims to establish a nationally consistent approach to the management of personal information.

Definitions

Personal Information is information which can identify an individual

Sensitive Information is information about a person's religious and political beliefs, sexual preferences, cultural, racial, or ethnic origin, membership of political associations, philosophical beliefs, criminal record or health information.

Your privacy is important

1. The College is bound by the Australian Privacy Principles contained in the Commonwealth Privacy Act 1988.
2. The College may, from time to time, review and update this Privacy Policy to take account of new laws and technology, changes to College operations and practices, and to make sure it remains appropriate to the changing school environment.

What kinds of personal information does the College collect and how does the College collect it?

The type of information the College collects and holds includes (but is not limited to) personal information, including health and other sensitive information, about:

- Students and parents and/or guardians ("Parents") before, during, and after the course of a student's enrolment at the College, including:
 - Name, contact details (including next of kin), date of birth, gender, language background, previous school and religion
 - Parents' education, occupation and language background
 - Medical information (e.g. details of disability and or/allergies, absences notes, medical reports and names of doctors)
 - Conduct and complaint records or other behaviour notes, and school reports
 - Information about referrals to government welfare agencies
 - Counselling reports
 - Health fund details and Medicare number
 - Any court orders

- Volunteering information, and
 - Photos and videos at school events.
 - Job applicants, staff members, volunteers and contractors, including:
 - Name, contact details (including next of kin), date of birth, and religion
 - Information on job application
 - Professional development history
 - Salary and payment information, including superannuation details
 - Medical information (e.g. details of disability and/or allergies, and medical certificates)
 - Complaint records and investigation reports
 - Leave details
 - Photos and videos at school events
 - Workplace surveillance information
 - Work emails and private emails (when using work email address) and Internet browsing history, and
 - other people who come into contact with the College, including name and contact details and any other information necessary for the particular contact with the College.

Personal information you provide

The College will generally collect personal information held about an individual by way of forms filled out by Parents or students, face-to-face meetings and interviews, emails and telephone calls. On occasions people other than Parents and pupils provide personal information.

Personal information provided by other people

In some circumstances the College may be provided with personal information about an individual from a third party, for example a report provided by a medical professional or a reference from another school.

Exception in relation to employee records

Under the Privacy Act, the Australian Privacy Principles do not apply to an employee record. As a result, this Privacy Policy does not apply to the College's treatment of an employee record where the treatment is directly related to a current or former employment relationship between the College and employee.

How will the College use the personal information you provide?

The College will use personal information it collects from you for the primary purpose of collection, and for such other secondary purposes that are related to the primary purpose of collection and reasonably expected, or to which you have consented.

Students and Parents

In relation to personal information of students and Parents, the College's primary purpose of collection is to enable the College to provide schooling to students enrolled at the College, exercise its duty of care, and perform necessary associated administrative activities, which will enable students to take part in all the activities of the College. This includes satisfying the needs of Parents, the needs of the students and the needs of the College throughout the whole period the student is enrolled at the College.

The purposes for which the College uses personal information of students and Parents include:

- to keep Parents informed about matters related to their child's schooling, through correspondence, newsletters, email, social media and magazines
- day-to-day administration

- looking after pupils' educational, social, spiritual and medical wellbeing
 - seeking donations and marketing for the school, and
 - to satisfy the College's legal obligations and allow the College to discharge its duty of care.

In some cases where the College requests personal information about a student or Parent, if the information requested is not obtained, the College may not be able to enrol or continue the enrolment of the student or permit the student to take part in a particular activity.

Job applicants and contractors

In relation to personal information of job applicants and contractors, the College's primary purpose of collection is to assess and (if successful) to engage the applicant or contractor, as the case may be.

The purposes for which the College uses personal information of job applicants and contractors include:

- administering the individual's employment or contract, as the case may be
- for insurance purposes
- seeking funds and marketing for the school, and
- satisfying the College's legal obligations, for example, in relation to child protection legislation.

Volunteers

The College also obtains personal information about volunteers who assist the College in its functions or conduct associated activities, such as Alumni associations, Parents' Association, Friends of Music, College Sporting Associations, to enable the College and the volunteers to work together.

Marketing and fundraising

The College treats marketing and seeking donations for the future growth and development of the College as an important part of ensuring that the College continues to be a quality learning environment in which both students and staff thrive. Personal information held by the College may be disclosed to an organisation that assists in the College's fundraising, for example, the College's Foundation or Alumni organisation, or Parents' Association or, on occasions, external fundraising organisations.

Parents, staff, contractors and other members of the wider school community may from time to time receive marketing and or fundraising information. College publications, like newsletters, emails, magazines and social media, which include personal information, may be used for marketing purposes.

Exception in relation to related schools

The Privacy Act allows each school within Catholic Education Western Australia ("CEWA"), being legally related to each of the other schools within CEWA, to share personal (but not sensitive) information with other CEWA schools. Other CEWA schools may then only use this personal information for the purpose for which it was originally collected. This allows schools to transfer information between them, for example, when a pupil transfers from one CEWA school to another CEWA school.

Who might the College disclose personal information to and store your information with?

The College may disclose personal information, including sensitive information, held about an individual for educational, administrative and support purposes. This may include to:

- other schools and teachers at those schools
 - government departments (including for policy and funding purposes)
 - CEWA, the Catholic Education Commission (CEC), the school's local diocese and the parish, other related church agencies/entities, and schools within other Dioceses/other Dioceses
 - the school's local parish
 - Connected organisations such as the Loreto, Mary Ward and Jesuit network
 - medical practitioners
 - Police
 - people providing educational, support and health services to the school, including specialist visiting teachers, coaches, volunteers, and counsellors
 - providers of specialist advisory services and assistance to the school, including in the area of Human Resources, child protection and students with additional needs
 - providers of learning and assessment tools
 - assessment and educational authorities, including the Australian Curriculum, Assessment and Reporting Authority (ACARA) and NAPLAN Test Administration Authorities (who will disclose it to the entity that manages the online platform for NAPLAN)
 - people providing administrative and financial services to the school
 - recipients of school publications
 - anyone who has received authorisation to have such information disclosed to them
 - students' parents or guardians
 - volunteers
 - bodies and clubs associated with the College
 - College service providers, such as Horizons West
 - other parents, such as class coordinators and convenors of special functions
 - anyone you authorise the school to disclose information to, and
 - anyone to whom we are required or authorised to disclose the information by law, including child protection laws.

Sending and storing information overseas

The College may disclose personal information about an individual to overseas recipients, for instance, to facilitate a school exchange. However, the College will not send personal information about an individual outside Australia without:

- obtaining the consent of the individual (in some cases this consent will be implied); or
- otherwise complying with the Australian Privacy Principles or other applicable privacy legislation.

The College may use online or 'cloud' service providers to store personal information and to provide services to the College that involve the use of personal information, such as services relating to email, instant messaging and education and assessment applications. Some limited personal information may also be provided to these service providers to enable them to authenticate users that access their services. This personal information may be stored in the 'cloud' which means that it may reside on a cloud service provider's server which may be situated outside Australia.

An example of such a cloud service provider is Google. Google provides the Microsoft 365, and stores and processes limited personal information for this purpose. College personnel, CEWA, the CEC and their service providers may have the ability to access, monitor, use or disclose emails, communications (e.g. instant messaging), documents and associated administrative data for the purposes of administering Microsoft 365 and ensuring its proper use.

How does the College treat sensitive information?

In referring to 'sensitive information', the College means: information relating to a person's racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religion, trade union or other professional or trade association membership, philosophical beliefs, sexual orientation or practices or criminal record, that is also personal information; health information and biometric information about an individual.

Sensitive information will be used and disclosed only for the purpose for which it was provided or a directly related secondary purpose, unless you agree otherwise, or the use or disclosure of the sensitive information is allowed by law.

Management and security of personal information

The College and College staff are required to respect the confidentiality of students' and Parents' personal information and the privacy of individuals.

The College has in place steps to protect the personal information the College holds from misuse, interference and loss, unauthorised access, modification or disclosure by use of various methods including locked storage of paper records and password access rights to computerised records.

Access and correction of personal information

Under the Commonwealth Privacy Act, an individual has the right to seek and obtain access to any personal information which the College holds about them and to advise the College of any perceived inaccuracy. There are some exceptions to this right set out in the Act.

Pupils will generally be able to access and update their personal information through their Parents, but older pupils may seek access and correction themselves. There are some exceptions to these rights set out in the applicable legislation. To make a request to access or to update any personal information the College holds about you or your child, please contact the College Principal or College Administrator by telephone or in writing.

The College may require you to verify your identity and specify what information you require.

The College may charge a fee to cover the cost of verifying your application and locating, retrieving, reviewing and copying any material requested. If the information sought is extensive, the College will advise the likely cost in advance. If we cannot provide you with access to that information, we will provide you with written notice explaining the reasons for refusal.

Consent and rights of access to the personal information of pupils

The College respects every Parent's right to make decisions concerning their child's education.

Generally, the College will refer any requests for consent and notices in relation to the personal information of a student to the student's Parents. The College will treat consent given by Parents as consent given on behalf of the pupil, and notice to Parents will act as notice given to the pupil. Parents may seek access to personal information held by the College about them or their child by contacting the College Principal or College Administrator by telephone or in writing. However, there may be occasions when access is denied. Such occasions would include where release of the information would have an unreasonable impact on the privacy of others, or where the release may result in a breach of the school's duty of care to the pupil. A school may, at its discretion, on the request of a pupil grant that pupil access to information held by the school about them, or allow a pupil to give or withhold consent to the use of their personal information, independently of their Parents. This would normally be done only when the maturity of the pupil and/or the pupil's personal circumstances warrant it.

Enquiries and complaints

If you would like further information about the way the College manages the personal information it holds, or wish to complain that you believe that the College has breached the Australian Privacy Principles, please contact the College Principal by writing or telephone at +61 8 9383 0400 or PO Box 226, Claremont WA 6910. The College will investigate any complaint and will notify you of a decision in relation to your complaint as soon as is practicable after it has been made.
